

SafeLine FD1600

The floor display for independent positioning

Your partner in lift safety

Floor display technology that lasts decades

The FD1600 is a floor display and voice announcer that shows directional arrows, scrolling text, floor units, and plays pre-installed floor announcements.

Built upon dependable LED technology, the FD1600 is energy efficient and very easily integrated into systems with minimum installation time. The FD1600 is also compatible with our Independent Positioning System (IPS), enabling a complete floor display system independent from the controller - a cost-effective and long-term solution perfect for buildings in need of modernization.
